About the AEL Course

In the context of the globalization of the present day, Eastern Asia has brought to the fore issues such as multiculturalism and economic and cultural inequality, which challenge the current education system. To answer this challenge, we have to foster educational professionals who have an international perspective and would be able to improve the current excessively knowledge-centered education systems of Eastern Asia.

The aim of the AEL Course is to raise leaders (IMEP : Internationally-Minded Educational Professionals) with an international perspective who would be able to tackle Eastern Asia's educational problems. Concentrating specifically on Eastern Asia, we are attempting to raise (1) Education researchers able to accurately analyze current problems in education, (2) Teacher leaders able to recognize educational problems and carry out their responsibilities for education in practice, (3) Education administrators able to incorporate educational reforms from all around the world in their perspective when making new policies.

We hope you all come and join us!

Aim

1.The people we train are:

- Education researchers capable of undertaking comparative analysis of educational issues in East Asia
- Teacher Leaders who are practicing educators capable of engaging with researchers, policymakers and other practitioners
- Education administrators with the knowledge and skills required to collaborate with partners across the region

2.The abilities we foster are:

- High professional knowledge "Knowledge"
- Empathic attitude toward Asia "Attitude"
- Research skills "Skill"
- Experience in the field "Practice"

→ KASP
